Ofsted rates college as 'Good'

HONITON Community College has been rated as 'Good' following an Ofsted report, an improvement on their last inspection.

The school was told it 'Required Improvements' in 2014, but the latest report from Ofsted described the overall effectiveness as 'Good'.

Principal Glenn Smith congratulated his staff and students on the improvement, saying: "I am absolutely delighted and thrilled that all of our hard work has been acknowledged and that the students' academic, social and emotional developmental progress has been recognised."

"I know we are a great team but to have an outside body praise us so highly is a credit to all the individuals who work tirelessly to support our students."

Ofsted and Her Majesty's Inspectors visited the college on March 16th-17th and April 26th-27th of this year.

The reports summary of key findings for parents and pupils acknowledged:

- Teaching is good overall and is well planned to ensure that pupils make good progress from their different starting points;
- The good behaviour and attitudes of pupils contribute to the orderly, purposeful and positive atmosphere in the school – their respect for themselves, others and the environment supports good learning;

- The principal and his senior leadership team are determinedly improving the quality of education and, as a consequence, current pupils make good progress in their knowledge, skills and understanding.

The 2014 report said the college required improvements in the achievement of pupils and the quality of teaching, leadership and management.

- Highlights within the latest report also include:
- Teachers use their secure subject knowledge and increasingly effective questioning skills to help pupils take the next steps in their learning;

- Relationships with pupils are very positive and contribute to pupils' progress because they are keen to learn;

- The school's core values of respect for yourself, others and the environment is reflected in the way pupils behave around the school, their attitudes to learning and their contribution to their community;

- Under the strong leadership of the new head of sixth form, the progress and achievement of current learners is improving – retention is also much improved;

- Pupils are now making good progress across most year groups and in most subjects;

- The governing body is strongly committed to the school and governors understand well their role in improving the quality of education and provide a good balance of support and challenge to school leaders to help them improve outcomes for pupils.

Mr Smith says he still has a desire for the school to be classed as outstanding. He said: "We will continue to instil a culture of high expectations in our community and raise students' aspirations so that achievement is consistently good or better in all subjects."

TOP STORIES FROM ACROSS EAST DEVON AND SOUTH SOMERSET

AXMINSTER NCP will run Webster's car park

THE new car park on the Webster's site in Axminster is set to be leased to, and operated by, NCP when completed.

Hallmark Estates (Plymouth), which owns the site, says the car park is likely to be opened during summer this year.

Hallmark Estates boss Neal Hiscocks said: "At the end of last week we received the great news that the final condition of the original planning consent had been discharged, this having been the final remaining planning hurdle.

"We now can bring the negotiations to a close with NCP who are our chosen operators of the car park and once the requisite signatures are on the documentation a three to six-week countdown commences during which the now approved operational car park creation works will be put in place. We are chomping at the bit to get the car park up and running."

As reported last week, the final go-ahead was given when district councillors went against the recommendation of planners and approved last minute changes.

SEATON Town clerk Chris Drake quits council

SEATON is looking for a new town clerk after Chris Drake tendered his resignation from the town council.

Seaton Mayor Marcus Hartnell confirmed the resignation and said: "He has given us his notice because he has a new job with another council that will further his career.

"People move on to bigger and better things. It is all very amicable. He has been with us for more than two years and has been very good.

"I have spoken to him and accepted his notice, and congratulated him on getting another post."

Cllr Hartnell would not name Mr Drake's new employer.

Shortly after his arrival more than two years ago, a number of council members praised Mr Drake for the clarity of his reports, which they found very helpful.

From the editor's chair Town clerk will be greatly missed

THE surprise news that Chris Drake has resigned as town clerk of Seaton will be met with great disappointment by many.

Seaton Town Council has a record of going through town clerks like Chelsea dismiss their managers (sorry, Tony Woodman!), but the resignation of Mr Drake would not have been expected.

We were unable to contact Mr Drake to ask why he had decided to stand down, but new mayor Marcus Hartnell confirmed the news and explained that Mr Drake had been offered a position on another council and that he left with the good wishes of the council.

Chris Drake took over as town clerk of Seaton at a time when the council was going through a very difficult time with the people of Seaton up in arms over a number of issues.

He brought stability to the council and quickly established himself as an excellent administrator. He did much to restore some credence in council affairs. His treatment of the Press was always fair and co-operative.

A number of other local councils could learn a lot from his example.

We wish him well in his new job.

◆ News this week also that Sarah Crook has stood down as chairman of Axminster Tourist Information Centre after many years' service. She is succeeded by local accommodation provider Joy Raymond.

There was a time when TICs in East Devon were run by the district council, but they ditched these many years ago as a cost cutting exercise, as have many other local authorities.

The responsibility for the TIC, situated in the Old Police Station, first fell to Axminster Chamber of Commerce with financial support from Axminster Town.

It is now run as an independent committee, people by volunteers with a part-time paid manager and financed to a great extent by the annual Beer, Music and Cider Festival, which this year takes place on the Showground on July 2nd.

Sarah Crook has done a wonderful job, keeping Axminster at the fore at all times. Joy Raymond is an experienced administrator and will build on the good work that Sarah has achieved.

◆ The owners of Webster's former site in Axminster town centre say they are "chomping at the bit" to open the site as a new car park. That bit should be well and truly chomped in six weeks.

They have also announced that the car park will be run by the national operator NCP. It will be interesting to see how their parking fees will compare to others in the town run by EDDC.

COLYTON Radio 4 comes to grammar school

CROWDS descended on Colyton Grammar School last week for the live broadcast of BBC Radio 4's Any Questions?, hosted by political commentator and presenter Jonathan Dimbleby.

Speaking in front of a packed school hall, the guest panel for the topical discussion programme included former Defence Secretary Dr Liam Fox MP, former Liberal Democrat leader Lord Paddy Ashdown, former Labour front bencher Rachel Reeves and Baroness Jenny Jones of the Green Party. They faced questions on topics ranging from famous gaffes to the upcoming EU referendum.

Andrew Gregson, deputy headteacher at Colyton Grammar School, said: "It was great to see so many people - parents, governors and the wider community - all coming together in the newly refurbished Cottrill Hall. It's a pity that we haven't got twice the capacity!

"Our thanks go to all the people who ensured that the event ran so smoothly, including Steve Cook, the school's business manager, who masterminded the evening."

Any Questions? is broadcast weekly on Friday evenings on BBC Radio 4 at 8pm. The episode broadcast from Colyton Grammar School is currently available online on BBC iPlayer.

SOUTH SOMERSET New fly-tipping fines of up to £400

LOW-level fly-tippers will be punished with a fixed-penalty notice under a new scheme administered by South Somerset District Council.

A law change in May gives the council the option of offering a fixed penalty notice (FPN) to those guilty of fly-tipping when they are caught.

The size of the fine is set to be discussed by SSDC's District Executive this week, and the proposal is £200. An agenda report stated: "The level of fixed penalty for this offence can be set anywhere between £150 and £400.

"Fly tips can vary hugely in their scale, impact on the environment and cost of clearing. It is therefore useful to have a range of sanctions available which can be implemented in proportion to the severity of the offence.

"It gives the option to issue a penalty without the time needed to go to court, where this is more appropriate to the offence committed. But other enforcement options, including prosecution, will still remain the same."

SSDC's District Executive agenda report said: "It is believed that a level of £200 is an appropriate and sufficient penalty to make it clear that an offence has been committed and also to act as a deterrent against further offending."

OTTERY ST MARY Hospital protest's war of words

MP HUGO Swire was cast in the role of pantomime villain during a protest by concerned residents outside Ottery St Mary Hospital.

The protest had been organised by Mr Swire's former parliamentary candidate opponent, Cllr Claire Wright, and saw 250 people turn up armed with placards and banners.

Two demonstrators even dressed up as a pantomime horse complete with signs saying 'It's highway robbery' and 'Stop galloping privatisation'.

To the surprise of those in attendance, Mr Swire attended the event and spoke to the crowd, defending the Government's decision to have the hospital sold to NHS Property Services and assuring them that the hospital would not close.

Alan 'runs the Rock' in aid of his Baton charity

FOUNDER of Honiton based charity The Baton, Alan Rowe MBE, recently visited Gibraltar to run the infamous Rock Run in aid of the charity.

Alan was accompanied on the trip by his wife and Baton trustee Pauline, and ran with local runner Ernest Garcia reaching a height of 1,300 feet.

The pair set off on the morning of May 14th, with Lieutenant General Ed Davies, the Governor of Gibraltar, seeing them off from outside his official residence, Convent House, with other senior officers from the British Overseas Territory at his side.

The run went very well; after they had completed their challenge, Alan, Pauline and Ernest were invited to join His Excellency the Governor and other dignitaries on the balcony of Convent House for the famous Ceremony of Guard Mounting, where the Keys of Gibraltar are on show.

Gibraltar Deputy Chief Minister the Hon. Dr. Joseph Garcia asked to be introduced to Alan where the pair chatted about the possible consequences Gibraltar would face if Britain left the EU - Alan complimented Dr Garcia on his recent presentation of the facts on local television.

Ernest Garcia and Alan Rowe completed the Rock Run in Gibraltar representing The Baton

Alan says he has formed a very good relationship with Gibraltar and added: "This and future visits will be to promote the Royal Gibraltar Regiment's proud history as well as the stoic character of the people of Gibraltar, who retain a pride in being part of Great Britain that we should honour and could learn from."

District council seat vacant after David Foster resigns

A SEAT on East Devon District Council representing Honiton's St Michael's Ward has opened up, following the resignation of David Foster.

The former Mayor of Honiton's resignation was announced by East Devon District Council chairman Stuart Hughes at the annual district council meeting last Wednesday (May 18th).

Speaking to Pulman's View from Honiton, Mr Foster said: "It is with regret that I have decided to step down from my seat on East Devon District Council.

"This is due to growing work and family commitments, and I feel I can no longer give the time and attention that this important role needs.

"I have enjoyed my short but fulfilling time with EDDC, and would like to thank staff and fellow councillors for their support and for the time and attention that is given to the running of EDDC by all those involved.

"I would also like to give thanks to the many members of the community that also give so much of their free time to serving our wonderful town.

"I look forward to still being very much involved with many different groups within Honiton, as I strongly believe giving time to serve your community is one of the most fulfilling things you can do.

"I would like to wish all the luck to whoever takes over from me in representing the people of St Michael's Ward".

There are currently two seats available on East Devon District Council: David Foster's vacated seat, and one in Exmouth following the death of Alison Greenhalgh.

An EDDC spokesperson said: "The procedure that the Returning Officer Mark Williams will follow is that he will publish a notice of vacancy for the two vacancies that exist in Exmouth and Honiton.

"However, out of respect for Councillor Greenhalgh, this will not happen until after her funeral on Thursday June 2nd.

"A by-election will be held if two electors for the relevant ward request one. Until then the seats will remain vacant."

Lions gift blood pressure monitors to surgery

HONITON Lions have helped supply Honiton Surgery staff with 15 home use blood pressure monitors. The surgery staff members thanked the Lions for helping them to purchase the monitors, saying that it makes a considerable difference to patients, being able to use the monitors at home.

FSB says roads should be made a priority

THE road structure across Devon is really starting to suffer from under-investment, according to the Federation of Small Businesses (FSB).

The organisation acknowledges that councils have been badly hit over the past years, so is calling on the government to make the road structure a priority.

A new report by the FSB shows that half of all small firms think the UK's roads and public transport system have deteriorated in recent years.

FSB Devon regional chairman David Shephard said: "The Government is investing in transport – but the lion's share goes to big flagship projects on the strategic road network.

"Most small businesses mainly rely on their local roads and public transport, so there is a strong case to prioritise investment in these smaller projects now since they have had little support over the recent years due to council cuts."

UK-wide, FSB found small businesses are overwhelmingly reliant on roads, with nine out of ten firms placing high value on the network. Rural businesses are even more likely to rely on roads as they often report little or no access to public transport links like rail or buses.

A spokesperson for FSB said: "The FSB report, Going The Extra Mile: Connecting businesses and rural communities, demonstrates how congestion, poorly maintained local roads, and a lack of regional strategic planning are all combining to pose a significant economic barrier to economic growth – particularly in rural areas.

"FSB would like to see current and future devolution deals used as an opportunity for new combined authorities to commit to greater investment in local transport infrastructure.

"Protecting transport spending, alongside better strategic planning, investing in the local road network and public transport will all help support UK small businesses.

"The top three issues reported by businesses based in rural areas were congestion on local roads, potholes and the cost of fuel.

"FSB would like to see these issues addressed directly in any new local devolution deals so that funds can be protected to better maintain roads and support small firms."

Working with FSB's research partner Verve, the rural transport survey received 1,352 responses of which 572 came from members in either rural or remote rural areas.

District council wants your views on services

AROUND 3,000 East Devon households will be asked to complete a survey over the next few weeks as part of the council's ongoing priority to listen to the views of its local people.

The district council's Viewpoint Survey will be dropping onto the doormats of the randomly selected homes from Thursday, June 2nd, giving residents the opportunity to have their say about the services the district council provides.

The survey, which is sent out every two years, will ask a series of questions and the direct feedback of the residents will help the council measure how its services are performing now, and how they can be improved.

This year, the survey includes questions about responsible dog ownership, and the responses will be used to help plan the immediate future of this important service.

East Devon District Council leader Paul Diviani said that he hoped that those households who are sent the survey would take part. "The views of our residents matter enormously to us and give us a valuable insight into how people feel about what we do.

"Not only do their opinions help us to continue to improve, they may also help shape the future of services too, just as the survey responses did two years ago for our recycling service. Receiving feedback from our local people is central to the council's core values of providing great services and working innovatively and we can only continue to do that if people tell us what they think."

As a thank you, all residents who complete the survey can enter a prize draw to win £100 of shopping vouchers.

People completing the survey can also sign up to receive the results of the questionnaire too and find out how the information will be used to improve the work of the council.

The questionnaire can be completed on paper or online and must be returned to the district council by Friday, July 29th.

County's grant to push green transport options

DEVON has won £500,000 funding from the Government to promote green forms of transport.

The funding for Devon County Council is part of £20.6m that is being given out nationally for 23 sustainable travel initiatives across England that boost local economies by supporting people's ambitions – offering cheap, clean and healthy travel options to access jobs and education opportunities.

Transport Minister Robert Goodwill said: "Green transport cuts congestion and improves air quality.

"It also offers the cheapest and healthiest way for people to access jobs and education.

"Devon's green travel scheme will make a real difference for residents and help provide better air quality for everyone.

"Our £21m funding across England shows we are committed to improving lives through investment in sustainable transport."

Successful local authorities demonstrated they could cut emissions, support social and economic growth and increase cycling and walking in their areas.

Restoration work reveals Somme hero's grave

A HUNDRED years after the Battle of the Somme the grave of a Honiton soldier who fought in the conflict has been revealed at St Michael's graveyard after restoration work by the Commonwealth War Graves Commission.

Pulman's View revealed the state of the graveyard last month and local historian Tony Simpson said: "The grave of Private Henry Langelaan, 10th Battalion Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry who received fatal wounds in the battle of the Somme can now be seen again after work by the CWGC following the newspaper article."

Pte Langelaan was one of 10,000 casualties during the advance on Trones Wood which in the end saw every tree destroyed.

His gravestone confirms he was wounded at the height of the Battle of the Somme on July 26th 1916.

Mr Simpson contacted the Commonwealth War Graves Commission who quickly sent a team to tidy the six graves and make a rough path.

Mr Simpson said: "Pte Langelaan's grave could not be seen since it was in the middle of a huge thorn bush with another First World War grave which has now been cleared.

"At last they can be seen though it is still hazardous underfoot and visitors should take great care.

"I hope plans for a photographic record of the six graves can now proceed with an exhibition later in the year."

Honiton Museum curator Margaret Lewis said: "The name of Pte Langelaan and five of the other First World War soldiers whose graves have been revealed are on Honiton War Memorial.

"He was repatriated to Woodlands Hospital but died of his wounds on August 16th 1916 and was buried by his family at St Michael's.

"His father Henry was a local stonemason whose business was near the station bridge in New Street.

"For years this part of the graveyard has not been maintained and most of the graves of First World War servicemen have become overgrown and unidentifiable, so it proved impossible to visit or find the graves.

"This shows a lack of respect towards those who made the supreme sacrifice.

"The re-discovery of the grave is really good news especially as the family of Pte Langelaan who live away from Honiton are hoping to visit."

New community garden at gallery opens its gates

MORE than 250 visitors celebrated the opening of Thelma Hulbert Gallery's new community garden in Honiton.

Gallery goers and local families turned out for the event, which was part of the national Museums at Night festival.

They joined in with art activities in the garden, trying their hand at charcoal making over campfires then drawing with it, together with enjoying local food stalls and music.

Councillor Stuart Hughes, chairman of East Devon District Council, opened the community garden and said: "I was honoured to open this beautiful community garden at the Thelma Hulbert Gallery, which is such an important part of our local community of Honiton and East Devon.

"The new 'Pocket Park' is one of 87 created nationally by the government, which is a significant achievement for Honiton.

"It is great to see this space transformed with local wildflowers, fruit bushes and trees, interactive areas for families, with bug hotels, live willow archways, herbs and edible plants. We look forward to seeing it grow and thrive."

In total, Thelma Hulbert Gallery (THG) raised an impressive £30,000 for the garden's regeneration with grants from local charitable trusts, as well as the government's Pocket Parks scheme and generous private donations.

THG Gallery Manager and Curator Angela Blackwell commented: "It was lovely to see so many visitors enjoying themselves.

"We would like to thank all the donors and trusts for their generosity, many of whom came to the opening. We look forward to using the garden for lots more activities and workshops over the summer."

New singing for fun group for over 50s

A JOINT enterprise by The Resilience team at Drink Wise Age Well and the Seaton branch of Devon Senior Voice will see the formation of a free-to-attend singing group in Seaton for the over 50s.

The first session will be held on Monday, June 6th in The Gateway.

Drink Wise Age Well is a Lottery funded programme which aims to encourage people to have a healthier relationship with alcohol as they age.

The Drink Wise Age Well resilience worker for the East Devon area, Paul Barnes, said: "I was made aware that there was a need in Seaton for a singing for fun group for the over 50s when I met with Devon Senior Voice members."

He made contact with Seaton-based musician Tina Bridgman, and between them they came up with the idea of the singing for fun group.

A Drink Wise Age Well spokesperson said: "There is increasing evidence that getting together with other people and singing can help to foster a 'feel good feeling'.

"This group is going to be an opportunity for anyone to come along and sing with other people in a safe fun environment.

"Whether you have sung before or not – all are welcome."

Places are limited so booking is essential.

For more details or to book a place, call Paul Barnes on 07590 776041.

For information on other events happening throughout Devon, visit the website www.drink-wiseagewell.org.uk and click on Devon.

Blue plaque added to historical trail

■ SIGNIFICANCE: Rotarian Doug Smith

by Anders Larsson

THE Rotary Club of Seaton has added a 16th plaque to its trail of places of historical significance in the town.

The plaque programme was started in 2005, and the West Walk searchlight emplacement has just become the 16th place to have a blue plaque erected.

A comprehensive interpretation board was already in place thanks to a joint project involving not only Rotary, but also Seaton Development Trust, Seaton Town Council, East Devon District Council and artist Bob Bradshaw.

The searchlight emplacement was part of a defence network against invasion during World War II.

Rotarian Doug Smith said: "The research describing the searchlight mounted in the emplacement is quite detailed."

'Pedicab' not viable

DEPUTY Seaton Mayor Jack Rowland has ruled out his own idea of a "pedicab" service.

Freshly elected as Deputy Mayor, his first job was to update fellow town councillors on the alternative form of transport he had been tasked to research.

Earlier this year, councillor Rowland tabled a motion saying the town council should invite companies to provide a pedicab service in the town from Easter until the end of September each year.

He described a pedicab as "a vehicle with a cyclist at the front with the ability to carry two passengers at the back".

Councillor Rowland said that a pedicab would increase footfall in the town centre and seafront, be attractive to coach companies and could take visitors from the town's tourist attractions to coach parking zones.

As previously reported, no decision was taken on the night.

Instead, councillor Rowland was asked to look into the matter in more detail and report back.

He delivered his conclusion when the town council met this month, saying that, in terms of licensing, a pedicab would be treated in the same way as a taxi.

"I can't see it being viable," he said.

It was agreed to take no further action.

Advertisers Announcement

A longcase clock made in Honiton in the early 19th century has returned to the town to be auctioned in Chilcott's next sale.

THE 'grandfather clock' has been passed down through the generations of the Murch family and it is believed to be the first time it has been for sale on the open market.

Unusually, it was made by a female clockmaker, an unexpected career for a woman during this period. Elizabeth Murch was the second wife of clockmaker and silversmith, Jerome Murch. She took on the business after her husband's death in 1802, and carried on running it until her death in 1807.

The clock case has been cut from a single piece of flame mahogany, and crafted beautifully so that the patterns in the grain of the wood all match. It has a chiming 'eight-day' movement, only needing winding once a week, with a date aperture and a seconds dial. In keeping with tradition for longcase clocks, the square silvered dial bears the signature of its maker and the town where it was made, in this instance Honiton.

Auctioneer Duncan Chilcott said: "Although it is over 200 years old, the Elizabeth Murch clock keeps excellent time still. Clocks of this age have often been tinkered with; it is a genuine pleasure to see one in such superb original condition, and it is unusual to be able to so accurately date it."

The clock brings with it a wealth of history; John Murch, whose family originally hailed from Plymouth (his father was a silversmith), bought the clock making business in Honiton from Francis Pile in 1739, where he reputedly moved after attending Blundells School in Tiverton. Jerome took on the business with Elizabeth after the death of his father in 1785.

Their nephew Matthew Murch carried on the trade. He was not only a clockmaker but also a silversmith and watchmaker, and made the church clock that can still be seen at St Pauls in Honiton. Matthew was the last Murch to make clocks, and the Honiton family business ended with his death in 1865.

The Elizabeth Murch clock is being sold by descendants of the Murch family who now live near Portsmouth; the vendor specifically wanted it to return to Honiton and has enjoyed researching her family history in the process of consigning the clock to Chilcotts. The clock has been estimated between £600-800.

Liz Chilcott is a big fan of this style of clock. She said: "We have a long case clock at home and there is something very comforting about the regular chimes – it's part of the family."

The clock is included in the next Chilcotts Fine Art, Antiques & Collectors Items sale on June 4th at the Silver Street saleroom next to Honiton Community College. Viewing is Thursday June 2nd from 9am – 5pm, Friday June 3rd from 9am – 7pm, and on sale day from 8.30am. The sale starts at 10.30am.

TV presenter at gardening club

OTTERY ST MARY: TV and Radio presenter Pippa Greenwood gave a talk to the Ottery St Mary Gardening Club at the Institute earlier this month.

Chairman of the club Brian Nelson said: "Pippa gave an excellent talk illustrated with high quality slides. The topic was about garden pests and diseases and their control. Pippa explained the principles of using biological control which for example included parasitic wasps to control white fly, predatory mites to control red spider mite, and also many more methods of controlling pests and diseases. The fact that many chemicals that have been used in the past are no longer avail-

First World War findings published

STOCKLAND: Bryan Drew and Charles Holme have been researching the stories of the men of Stockland who fought in the First World War, 1914-19. Their research complete, the final draft of the document is now available and will be printed out and kept in the village church, St Michael and All Angels, Stockland.

Mr Holme said: "We began this exercise by copying the list of names from the church war memorial. We then went to the Commonwealth War Graves Commission website to draw up short lists of candidate records that might fit with local names."

The information is also available to view online at <http://www.stockland.org.uk/WW1>

"There were some false starts and a few blind alleys, but having trawled through census returns, parish records, Army records and local newspaper archives, as well as some other sources, we were able to compile at least a basic record about the men who died and varying amounts of data on the men who returned alive.

"Only a few names had any current local connections but we were able to contact a few families to get some old photos which we reproduced with permission."

"The end result was a 75-page document. Hard copies were sent to the Devon Archive Office and to Stockland Church with the e-version uploaded onto the Stockland website, where it has had more hits than any other section, especially from the USA."

The booklet details information on the 25 men from the village who died during the Great War, as well as the 32 men who fought and survived.

Meticulous demonstration in acrylics

AXMINSTER ART SOCIETY: Contrasting recent demonstrations of vigorous painting with palette knives and big brushes, Karl Taylor's 'Still Life with Acrylics' was a study of meticulous preparation and brush work.

Born in Cornwall in 1963, Karl has received numerous awards for his work, including the Silver Medal for excellence from the Wildlife Art Society and the Nature in Art award from The Artist magazine and is well known for exquisite bird paintings.

For this demonstration, Karl worked from a photograph but for reference only, not as an image to be copied. He doesn't worry about mistakes: "Working with acrylics," he says, "is like jazz – the more mistakes you make, the better".

The next meeting will be at 2.30 pm on Wednesday, September 21st in The United Reformed Church Hall, Chard Street, Axminster, when Rebecca de Mendoca will demonstrate portrait work in pastels.

Meanwhile, the Art Society will be exhibiting their work at Axe Vale Festival on June 25th and 26th.

For further details of The Society, contact Anthea Bareham on 01460 221088.

MILLWEY YOUTH FOOTBALL ON THE RISE!

What a year for Millwey Rise AFC Youth!

WELL, what a 12 months for Millwey Rise AFC Youth! Just over a year ago, at the end of the 2014-15 season the club had its biggest achievement to date; with our Under 9s and Under 10s representing the club in the Exeter & District Youth League Cup Finals Day, held at the home of Exeter City FC St James Park.

We are now at the end of the 2015-16 season, where we had 5 teams entered into the Exeter & District Youth League, 1 team in the Dorset Youth League and for the first time in the club's history an Under 12s Girls team was formed. The club was also heavily involved in getting the funding for the new 3G pitch to be built on The Axe Valley Community College site, run by LED Leisure. All the club's age group teams use the facility over the winter months for training and matches.

The season was rounded off by the club's annual presentation evening, held at Cloakham Lawn Sports & Social Club on Friday 6th May. It was the club's biggest turn out to date and was a great way to end the 2015-16 season, celebrating the success of our junior section.

The club would like to publicly thank our sponsors for their generosity and support: The Co-op Stores, The Tuckers Arms, Central Stores, Abba Cleansing, Bovis Homes, HWS Cleaning and the Axminster Social Club.

The club is well run by a strong committee, who volunteer countless amounts of their time in making the club a warm and friendly place for all budding young footballers to develop their skills, with the help of our 11 (Soon to be 15!) FA qualified coaches.

Next season (2016-17) the club will be running the following age group teams; Under 6s, Under 7s, Under 8s, Under 9s, Under 10s, Under 11s, Under 12s, Under 12s Girls and Under 14s. If you think your child might be interested in joining the club we are holding their annual 'Signing On Day' on Saturday 11th June, for players aged 5-14 (See flyer below). For any more information feel free to contact Daniel Murnane on 07845 498057.

Raggs gets his own movie

HONITON Cats Protection have taken the ingenious idea to create a film to help home one of their cats who has been with them for a long time.

Honiton Cats Protection co-ordinator Bob Carter explained: "Raggs has been with us for a long time and we think no-one was interested because he didn't take the best picture."

"His fosterer decided to show how lovely he was with a bit of video footage and this led to him starring in his own movie trailer."

"It highlights how friendly he is and we hope that someone will like the trailer enough to come and see the real thing."

Fosterer Heidi Cruickshank added: "We feel sure that anyone meeting Raggs will fall in love but the problem has been how to get them to come in the first place - I'm really hoping that this will do the trick and his story will have a happy ending."

'Raggs: The Movie' is available on the Honiton Cats Protection Facebook page. To make an appointment to meet the star you only need to contact Honiton Cats Protection on 01404 45241.

Sidbury development: three reasons against

WE are extremely concerned about the proposed employment land at Sidford for three reasons in particular:

Firstly the increased area of hardstanding will mean a great reduction in the absorption of rain water and will thus considerably increase the danger of flooding. Flooding is already a major issue in all areas of the Sid Valley with Sidbury, Sidford and Sidmouth itself all being affected during periods of heavy or prolonged rain and this proposed development will inevitably only increase the risk. Considerable flood damage has been caused throughout the valley in very recent years with both villages and The Byes badly affected as well as houses in Sidmouth itself.

Secondly, both main roads, the A375 and the A3052 are regularly congested with both light traffic, cars etc. and with large commercial vehicles and buses. There is insufficient width for these to pass each other in the village of Sidbury and at the narrower section of the A375 in Sidford. All year round traffic backs up at the traffic lights especially as bus stops are positioned at the traffic lights. This is worse at certain times of the day and during the summer months it often happens that queuing at Sidford extends half way along the Sidbury road making this particularly dangerous for both cyclists and pedestrians. The same applies to the traffic approaching the lights in both directions along the A3052. Any development which will inevitably increase traffic on both these roads is to be deplored.

Thirdly, this development will very detrimentally affect the landscape in this Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and is inappropriate to the economic, social and well being of the area.

JW & JM STEPHENS,
Sidbury

Beware what you ask for, Ottery residents

I AM an Ottery St Mary town councillor, writing personally.

After two drop-in public meetings, in West Hill and Tipton, the good burghers of Ottery are beginning to show their true colours. The Mayor, Deputy Mayor and five other town councillors, masquerading as concerned residents, are trying to persuade people to support a boundary for the proposed new West Hill Parish Council that will see the area of West Hill, established for 150 years, reduced by 50 per cent.

Some of them have been trying to add spurious authenticity to this carve up by falsely suggesting that it was proposed by the Boundaries Commission, and others cannot agree amongst themselves whether or not they did secretly lobby East Devon District Council about boundaries during the first phase of consultation.

It is now clear why they want to take control of the land to the west of the town away from West Hill; to replace West Hill's contribution to council coffers, which has subsidised the other wards for years. It would allow the building of more and more new houses, expanding Ottery to the west, which would generate more income for the council.

So if you are fed up with gridlock in the town, overburdened facilities and endless house-building, think twice before supporting the boundary as proposed by EDDC, and supported by the "concerned residents" who want to wreck West Hill's perfectly legitimate plans to govern its own affairs within its established boundary.

Heraldic Market

A COLOURFUL Heraldic Market will be held to launch the annual display of heraldic banners around the town. The market will be held in the Town Hall, which will be decorated and feature craft and food stalls. Colyton's Town Crier will assemble the townsfolk, and the event will be officially opened by Colin Pady at 10.30am. There will also be a display of Elizabethan costumes from Colyton Theatre Group, and an exhibition of rare Chamber of Feoffees artefacts and records to commemorate the foundation of the Chamber of Feoffees in 1546 - a celebration of 470 years of unbroken service to the community.

The display of the hand painted banners from buildings in Market Place and around the town, depict the heraldic coats of arms of those families associated with Colyton's colourful historic past.

There will be an accompanying booklet available for sale from the Heritage Centre and The Little Shop. Morning coffee, light lunches and cream teas available in Town Hall 10.00am to 4.00pm.

County council saves bus services

DEVON County Council has stepped in to secure the continuation of two bus services in East Devon.

Service 688, a Dorset-based service which serves Hawkchurch in Devon on its way to and from Axminster every Thursday, had its subsidy withdrawn by Dorset County Council in April.

The service will be able to continue thanks to a new arrangement between Devon County Council and Dorset Community Transport.

Service 20 from Seaton to Taunton through Honiton will undergo minor changes to its route from Monday, July 25th. Following Somerset County Council's withdrawal of its share of the subsidy for Service 20, Devon County Council has provided an additional £18,700 to keep the modified service running. The service, which is operated by Stagecoach, will no longer stop at West Buckland and the last bus of the day will terminate at Culmstock rather than Taunton.

Councillor Stuart Hughes, Devon County Council Cabinet Member for Highway Management, said: "The subsidies from Devon for these services will enable the continuation of these important links and we recognise how highly they're valued by Devon residents."

"These services now rely exclusively on subsidies from Devon County Council. We have had to make minor changes to Service 20 but that has ensured it is cost effective for Devon."

Councillor Andrew Moulding, Devon County Councillor for Axminster, said: "I have been pleased to support the efforts of local parishes to continue a bus service between Axminster, Hawkchurch and Thorncombe."

"This is an extremely good example of partnership working between Devon County Council and Dorset Community Transport across two counties, with an excellent result for local residents."

Councillor Sara Randall Johnson, Devon County Councillor for Honiton St Michael's, said: "Local residents and I welcome Devon County's commitment to keeping this service on the road."

"I am worried for the long term future, if we are unable to attract fare paying passengers in larger numbers. The bus company needs to help encourage these vital fare paying passengers to really establish this much needed service for our concessionary bus pass residents and visitors."

Councillor Jim Knight, Devon County Councillor for Seaton Coastal, said: "I'm pleased that Devon County Council is increasing its support for the Service 20 to Taunton."

"It's a route that is vital to the Seaton area, and losing this service would mean that only Exeter is available for major items. Residents will now be able to continue using this valuable service."

Hugo backs British food campaign

HUGO Swire has joined Conservatives across the UK to show support for the Great British Food Campaign.

The five-year campaign, led by Environment Secretary Elizabeth Truss, will give a boost to chefs, entrepreneurs and food producers to promote British food and drink at home and abroad.

The campaign is well underway with 2016 designated the Year of Great British Food. As well as events across the world, such as a gin and English sparkling wine party in Chicago for the Queen's 90th birthday, the campaign has already held a food market at 10 Downing Street and launched a food trail to coincide with the second annual Cycle Tour de Yorkshire.

Mr Swire says he wants to build on this success and encourage even more East Devon companies to sell their Great British produce around the world.

Mr Swire said: "East Devon has some of the very best produce that the UK has to offer and there has never been a more exciting time for the UK's food and drink industry."

ORIGINALLY from the South Northamptonshire countryside, MINAXI FOUNTAIN moved to Kilming-ton, two years ago with her husband and 10-year-old son Oliver, seeking a better quality of life with a healthy dose of sun, sea and sand!

Having always had an interest in cooking, Minaxi started cooking curries for other mums at the school playground and soon realised that she could turn this into a successful business.

She set up Khushi Kitchen and now offers authentic Indian takeaways, as well as supplying fresh frozen meals to local shops and from her home.

● WHEN did you first take an interest in cooking?

I remember helping mum in the kitchen from primary age. She said I would never find a nice man if I couldn't get my chapattis round! My passion for cooking started at an early age, watching my peers at university eat Pop Tarts, Smash and beans, and cardboard pizzas, which made me grateful for my mum's insistence on my starting early.

I cooked everything from scratch even in those days and my saucepans grew bigger, as even back then I drew quite a crowd to my kitchen and dining table under the illusion it was me they liked but it was indeed my cooking!

● HOW did you come to set up Khushi Kitchen and how has the business developed?

Having studied IT at university and then doing the natural thing of progressing my career right through to being a director of my own consultancy company, I realised I was just joining a crowd of "successful", high-earning people at the cost of the most important thing to me - my family!

It took a family tragedy to make me realise how short life is... so here I am cooking curries for Friday takeaway and fresh frozen stock being supplied to shops and sold via my home everyday - pop in, help yourself and leave money in honesty box - easy as that.

My business in cooking was totally unplanned, it all started with the power of the school playground. I used to cook to order whatever the mums wanted and would take my brown takeaway bags at 3.30pm every Friday. It all grew from there really and I still only grow via word of mouth and, of course, keeping up to date via Facebook too.

● WHAT kind of food do you offer?

My take away is Indian food, the difference being I am passionate about cooking everything from scratch, in season and using only the highest quality ingredients.

It is also lower in fat than your normal curry take-away as I don't use ghee or any additional fat or sugar unless it is essential to the recipe.

My meats and veg are sourced from butchers and local markets and, to top it all off, I offer food which I have grown up with from the Gujarat region of India, where my parents were born and bred, so my recipes are passed down the generations.

Other dishes come from my many visits to India from ashrams, street food to high-end restaurants - if I liked something on my travels I was cheeky enough to ask for the recipe so the dishes really are unique and authentic.

● DO you cater for parties and special events?

I have catered for several large and small events, my last and biggest one was for 120 people at the Kilminster Village Hall! I have also done charity events in Lyme and locally with more events lined up, as well as birthday parties, concerts, etc. My Saturdays are getting far busier than I first anticipated but I am determined to keep it small and at home.

● WHAT'S your favourite dish to make?

My most popular dish is the Chicken Tikka Makhani, which balances flavour and spice and is my signature dish. My favourite besides the vegetarian dishes that I specialise in is the Gujarati chicken - this was the childhood dish we had every Sunday

● WHAT do you like about living in the local area?

Kilminster is a lovely village, there is plenty socially here and the people generally in Devon seem to be a lot more laid back and so friendly what a difference to the soul it makes! Balanced with a generally beautiful surrounding, it's like being on a permanent holiday.

LOCAL TRADESMEN SET FOR CHALLENGE

IN AID OF CANCER CHARITY FORCE, BASED IN EXETER AT THE RD&E

ON Monday May 30th Dave Selley, Matt Craker, Doug Board, and Ian "Pipes" Woodhall will start their Cycle ride from John o groats in the far north east of Scotland back south to lands end in Cornwall just short of 1000 miles. They are aiming to cover 70 to 80 miles a day for 13 days, and hope to arrive at lands end on Sunday June 12 mid morning.

They will be raising funds for FORCE Cancer support a great local charity based in Exeter at the RD&E

The "boys" with a combined age in well in excess of 200 years have been training hard around the roads and have done some charity rides but non of them embarked on any thing like this before.

Inspired by fiends who did the ride last year, whilst talking in a pub one night these unlikely cyclists decided it would be a good idea to take on the challenge. At this time they had not realised how much was involved, arranging time off work, transport and accommodation, and they are very grateful to wives and friends for helping plan the whole thing and providing the back up needed to make it work. They are also indebted to local business for there help with transport(they have been lent a van) sign righting, tee shirts and printing as well bike servicing fuel and sponsorship.

Dave Selley from the team explained, that they set off to do this as a personal challenge but felt that it was an opportunity to raise some money for a good cause. When a Nigel Broom a neighbour and good friend was diagnosed very unfortunately with cancer it shocked all of us, and he explained that FORCE had been very helpful to him and his family. Wanting to find out more we talked to others who have suffered form cancer and unfortunately to the family's who have lost a love ones, all said the same FORCE had helped them. So we decided this was to be our charity of choice. Ever since we have had offers of support form so many people it is staggering!

As part of the fund raising we have already run a quiz evening kindly put on by the Kingfisher pub, raising over £400, and on route we are holding another fund raising evening with the Bencoolen wreckers, a shanty group @ the Bencoolen arms near Bude

On June 9th @7.30 as well as an appearance at the Royal Cornwall show on June 10th.

We are hoping as many people as possible will join us, with there bikes to do the last leg 19 miles starting from Hayle railway station car park @ 10 am June 12th or can join us at Lands end mid morning.

We are looking forward to creating an even better festival in 2016. We are so lucky with the amount of fantastic food and drink in this part of Devon, and we look forward to showcasing it all.

EAT. DRINK. ENJOY. YOU'RE WELCOME.

THE Ottery St. Mary Food & Families Festival is a non-profit event, organised by a group of individuals who are enthusiastic about local food and drink. This will be the 4th year of the popular event and it aims to be just as successful and popular as previous years.

The Food & Families Festivals is driven by a passion for local food and talent and showcases the very best of what Ottery St. Mary has to offer.

The festival aims to raise local and regional awareness of Ottery St. Mary by providing a great day out for all the family to enjoy. Last year nearly 5,000 people joined in with the fantastic fun each day. The festival involves local groups (e.g. schools) to help raise awareness of good and healthy, locally produced and sourced products and provide an opportunity for local enterprises to showcase their business to the local community and tourist trade.

One thing for sure is that there will be no shortage of wonderful food and delicious drink available throughout the day.

Counselling – Are you ready for growth and change?

Counselling can help individuals, couples and families to make changes in their lives which offer greater freedom in thought and action. It can help people see how they may be repeating types of behaviour and thoughts impacting on themselves and others.

Many of us are unaware of what emotional or physical blocks we create in our daily lives.

'Counselling with Gillian Perrow' provides an opportunity to talk through issues in a clear, direct and honest way while working towards the changes you desire. Call Gillian: 01297 32530 or 07877721297 for more details. Alternatively email gillianperrow@btinternet.com

Kinesiology

Systemic Kinesiology (pronounced kin-easy-ology) is a totally holistic, non-intrusive therapy.

Central to Kinesiology is the muscle test. The muscle test can help to identify any imbalances in the body by monitoring a person's ability to hold a muscle against light pressure.

If there are imbalances affecting the body the muscle tested will feel 'spongy'. Each time a relevant factor is introduced, the response of the muscle being tested will change, similar to a switch.

Kinesiology can help with a range of conditions such as catarrh, backache, headaches, asthma and skin problems.

Jane van Spyk is our Kinesiology practitioner and can be contacted on 07850 565 182. Further details can be viewed by following this link <http://www.axminsterwellbeing.com/complementary-therapies.html>

Stress describes the feelings people experience when the demands made upon us are greater than the ability to manage them

HELPING you to take control of your life.

Stress describes what most people experience when the demands made upon individuals are greater than the ability to manage them. People can feel overloaded, under tremendous pressure and feel tense or emotional.

Stress affects everyone, young and old and is a completely normal reaction that will be experienced by everyone from time to time when faced with new or challenging situations.

External stressors are sources of stress that we are aware of around us, these can include traumas, life experiences or simply daily hassles. Internal stressors are the sources of stress that are inside us and are often the most common sources of stress. They are the thoughts and feelings that pop into the head and cause unease, these can include unrealistic expectations, uncertainties, low self esteem and apprehensions.

The work place is also known to be a big influence in stress. A study found that more than half of people in work suffer from stress over a period of a year, and statistics show that a quarter of workers have taken time off sick due to stress and that stress is the leading cause of sick leave. Common causes of stress at work include: workloads, long hours, responsibilities, role expectations, bullying or harassment, lack of job security, poor working environment, and lack of support.

Stress can manifest itself as many different symptoms, ranging from physical to psychological and behavioural, and people may experience these to varying degrees. Physical symptoms can include: increased heart rate, sweaty palms, muscle tension, sleep disturbance, fatigue, vomiting, change in breathing patterns, dry mouth, headaches, nausea or dizziness, indigestion or heartburn and sudden weight loss or gain. Psychological symptoms can include anxious thoughts, irritability, low self esteem and confidence, inability to concentrate, feeling fearful, feeling unable to cope, difficulty making decisions, feeling negative and lack of interest in life, feeling alone, loss of creativity, withdrawal, frustration and confusion. Behavioural symptoms can include interrupted or lack of sleep, use of drugs or alcohol, a change in appetite, avoiding situations, changing habits, nail biting, teeth grinding, neglect of physical appearance, lack of communication, putting off difficult jobs and giving excuses.

The first step in helping to manage the stress that you experience is to recognise what is happening is a natural response, then changing it. Michelle Hague is here to help you take control of your life.

Clinical Hypnotherapy can help to reduce stress and cognitive behavioural therapy and mindfulness have all been used to treat it. For more information or to see if Michelle can help you call 07761773563.

Lindy Parry Podiatrist / Chiropodist

I HOLD my private chiropody clinic at Townsend House Surgery in Seaton.

I offer a range of treatments from a simple nail cut to nail surgery, and each treatment plan is priced accordingly.

The nail cutting only service is a shorter appointment and is ideal for those that don't have any other foot care needs. Others like to alternate nail cuts with chiropody treatments as it best suits their requirements. I always aim to work with the patient to find the best treatment plan to suit each individual. Patients feet are then monitored during treatment so that changes can be made should the need arise.

Diabetic patients who attend for chiropody will also have a diabetic foot assessment carried out during their first treatment, and will then be monitored and re-assessed as necessary.

My chiropody clinics are available to anybody seeking help with their feet and Townsend House and I look forward to welcoming you.

Bookings can be made by calling 01297 22956.

West of England Laser Centre

COSMETIC EYELID SURGERY (BLEPHAROPLASTY)

AGEING is often most noticeable around the eyes, with excess fat and/or loose eyelid skin producing puffy, "baggy" eyelids and a tired, older appearance. Eyelids may feel heavy and/or interfere with vision.

Surgery to the eyelids to remove unwanted skin and/or fat, "blepharoplasty", can result in significant improvements, rejuvenating the eyes and face and producing a fresher, younger - yet still natural appearance.

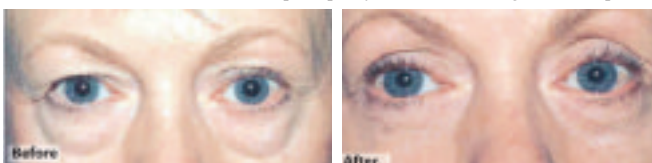

The excess skin and fat is surgically removed usually from the outside, using natural skin creases, leaving no visible scar. Surgery is performed under general or local anaesthetic, takes 1-2 hours and can be combined with laser skin resurfacing, or injection treatment, to remove facial lines.

Improvement in the appearance is significant but subtle and the usual response from friends (who are "not in the know") is... "you look well" and "not so tired."

Surgery is performed at Nuffield Health Taunton Hospital by a Consultant Oculoplastic (Eye) surgeon who specialises in plastic surgery around the eyes and who also holds an NHS consultant post. In addition the Consultant is highly experienced in the use of lasers for other skin problems such as the removal of fine lines/wrinkles, birthmarks, age/sun spots, moles, threadveins, excess hair and tattoos.

Our website at www.welc.co.uk provides details on all our treatments.

For further information or to book a consultation please telephone 01823 331773 or e-mail us at lasercentre@lineone.net.

Beauty Spot or Mole?

Dark circles, puffiness, wrinkles and creping of the skin can all make you look (and feel) old and tired.

The West of England Laser Centre located at the Nuffield Hospital Taunton offers various treatments to revitalise and rejuvenate your appearance.

- Injectables
- Blepharoplasty (eyelid surgery)
- Laser Skin Resurfacing

Be reassured that all treatments are performed by a consultant Oculoplastic Surgeon (A Surgeon who specialises in plastic surgery around the eyes)

Traditional Acupuncture Val Davis

Acupuncture can improve and maintain health and energy and enhance a sense of well-being

ACCORDING to traditional Chinese philosophy, our health is dependent on the body's motivating energy (qi) moving in a smooth and balanced way through a series of channels beneath the skin.

Acupuncture can affect the quality of qi, your body's vital energy, by the insertion of very fine needles into specific points along these channels. This stimulates the body's healing response and restores natural balance. Treatment is aimed at the root cause of your condition as well as your main symptoms. This approach helps with resolving your problem and enhancing your feeling of well-being. You may notice other niggling problems resolve as your main health complaint improves.

The type of conditions that I mostly see in my clinics include the following: arthritis, back pain and sciatica, poor circulation, low energy levels, hormonal/menopausal symptoms, pregnancy management, fertility problems, weight management, and addictions such as smoking. However, you don't have to be ill in the conventional sense to benefit from acupuncture, sometimes people come to see me because they are feeling low, unwell in themselves, or maybe not sleeping as well as they would like to.

Professional Acupuncturists spend at least 3 years training at degree level to become an Acupuncturist. We are then entitled to join the British Acupuncture Council and to use the letters Lic.Ac., B.Ac.C after our names. We also have public liability and professional indemnity insurance. Many of us have also studied at post-graduate level and are constantly updating our skills and experience.

So, why not give me a ring and see if I can help.

Sterling Preservation Ltd

Don't let Beetles play in your Loft!

SPRING heralds the beginning of "woodworm season" when the common furniture beetle begins to emerge from the centre of timbers where it's been eating during the winter. Their presence is detected by little round holes often coupled with deposits of dust.

Given the right conditions beetles can infest a wide variety of timber, both soft and hardwoods including structural building timbers, furniture and wooden ornaments. If left unchecked infestations can lead to severe structural weakening and eventually total collapse.

But treated early with an effective woodworm insecticide, common furniture beetles don't pose a major risk to structural durability.

Greenshutters Nurseries & Garden Centre

GREENSHUTTERS Nurseries & Garden Centre is a family run business nestled in the heart of the Somerset countryside. It is open 7 days a week and stocks an extensive range of plants. The Garden Centre has completely changed in the last few years with the layout being completely re-designed. There are new entrances from the road and into the Plant Area and the old-fashioned wooden greenhouse has been restored to its former glory with its bright, white painted wood. Most of the plants are now on tables so you don't have to bend down to look at them and the layout has been designed to make the walk around the plant area enjoyable.

This year Greenshutters Garden Centre is stocking a much larger range of herbaceous perennials and roses, including new and unusual varieties. There is also a new range of quality garden benches dotted among the plants, so you are welcome to wander around the garden centre and take a rest as you go. You can even sit and enjoy the view over Taunton Vale and the Quantocks.

The business also incorporates EVER-GREENHEDGING.co.uk, one of the largest stockists of evergreen hedging plants in the country. Thousands of plants are grown every year on the nursery from small to large, mature hedging plants; the best sellers being Laurel, Leylandii, Photinia 'Red Robin' and Portugal Laurel. These are delivered locally or nationwide or can be collected from Greenshutters Nurseries and Garden Centre.

Greenshutters is run by Dr Roger Eavis, who bought the nursery in 1998 and the business has grown steadily every year since then. "We pride ourselves on good customer service and advice, good quality plants and I hope we have created a pleasant place to wander and enjoy the plants," says Roger, "We have a great team of staff who are always willing to help and give advice". Greenshutters Nurseries and Garden Centre is well worth a visit.

What's your 'saver' personality?

THE savings landscape has undergone a dramatic change recently.

The launch of the new personal savings allowance means we have a much wider choice of places to stash our cash without paying tax on the interest - not just ISAs.

The new allowance enables basic rate tax payers to earn up to £1,000 in savings interest tax-free. Higher rate taxpayers can now earn up to £500 in tax-free interest.

This will provide at least a little comfort for some of those who have seen their returns hammered in recent years by rock-bottom interest rates.

But when it comes to making the most of the new allowance, it seems much may depend on your "savings personality".

Research from Santander has revealed six different savings personality types.

It found the most common type is the "sometime squirreller".

Around one in three of us fall into this bracket. These are people who do save - but only for special occasions or purchases and do not put money away as often as they would like to.

Holidays and cars are the most popular savings goals, followed by unexpected rainy day expenses such as a boiler breakdown.

After sometime squirrellers, the next most common savings personality is the "superhero saver". For a lucky one in four people, putting money away comes as second nature, it seems.

Meanwhile, 17% of people are described as "save another dayers", for whom saving is a great idea - if only they could get around to doing it.

Around one in 10 people are "fence sitters" - who do not think about saving at all. And a similar number are "all gone againers" - who blow their money every payday.

Around one in 16 people are described as a "raver not saver". They would rather splash out on enjoying themselves than put money away for a rainy day.

As a general rule, experts believe it's a good idea to have money put away that could cover at least three months' worth of bills in case of an emergency. Some believe six months' worth of cash should be put aside to be on the safe side.

On average, people think they should have around £6,500 in savings set aside for a rainy day, Santander found.

So how can you become a superhero saver? Even if saving such large amounts seems a daunting task, getting into the habit of putting away a little, and often, can help.

Nearly two-thirds (61%) of us admit we have got a shock when we've checked our bank balance, Santander's research among more than 2,000 people found.

In an attempt to control their spending, more than one in four (28%) have cut up credit cards and 36% have avoided going into shops.

What kind of saver are you?

HOW CAN YOU... CUT YOUR CAR INSURANCE PREMIUM?

RICHARD Headland, editor of Which? says: "There are some simple and sometimes surprising things that can have a big impact on your car insurance premium."

Here are some tips from Which?

- Carefully consider your job title. While you must not lie about what you do, some jobs can be referred to in different ways - and this can reduce your premium.

- Avoid modifying your car. Even adding tinted windows or changing your alloy wheels could increase premiums.

- Setting a higher voluntary excess - as long as it's one you can afford - can lower premiums. Setting your voluntary excess at £500 instead of £0 can save around £117.

- Don't overestimate your mileage. Motorists driving 10,000 miles a year can pay £31 more on average than those driving 5,000.

- Check the price of comprehensive cover. You may expect comprehensive cover to be more expensive - but on average Which? found it was £156 cheaper because third party, fire and theft is often bought by younger drivers who are statistically more likely to be involved in an accident.

POUNDNOTES

FINANCIAL fact: March was a record month for current account customers switching deals, according to payments body Bacs.

Some 124,615 customers switched their account in March 2016 using the new current account switching service which makes changing your bank or building society simpler - the highest monthly total since the service was launched in 2013.

HOMEOWNERS HAVE HIGH HOPES FOR PROPERTY PRICES, STUDY SAYS

MORE than nine in 10 homeowners expect property prices in their areas to increase in the coming months, a website has found.

Some 92% of homeowners surveyed for Zoopla expect property values where they live to continue marching upwards over the next six months - with a typical predicted growth rate of 9.5% over the period.

Homeowners were found to have high confidence levels in house price growth despite recent reports suggesting factors such as the EU referendum could sprinkle some uncertainty over the housing market in the coming months.

SCAM EMAIL WARNING FOR STUDENTS

STUDENTS are being warned of a growing threat from scam emails.

The Student Loans Company has reported seeing an increase in scam emails and said it has had several scam websites closed down.

Fiona Innes, head of counter fraud services at the Student Loans Company, says: "We want to remind customers that we will never request a customer's personal or banking details by email or text message."

SOME 300,000 PEOPLE EXPECTED TO SELL THEIR ANNUITY

AROUND 300,000 people are expected to sell their retirement annuity after a further pensions shake-up comes into force next year, HM Revenue and Customs (HMRC) documents show.

From April 2017, people who already have an annuity - which gives pensioners a guaranteed income - can sell it on for a lump sum.

The reforms will build on the pension freedoms introduced in 2015, which mean people aged 55 and over no longer have to use their pension pot to buy an annuity and instead they can have more choice over how they use their money. The 2015 reforms did not affect people who had already retired and had bought an annuity.

Winners & losers in pension stakes

By Vicky Shaw, Press Association

THE new tax year has brought with it the launch of the new state pension.

The overhaul, which affects people reaching state pension age on or after April 6, 2016, aims to give people a clearer idea, from a younger age, of exactly how much retirement cash they are likely to end up with.

The full new pension has a single-tier flat rate of £155.65 a week.

To get the new state pension, men must have been born on or after April 6, 1951, and women must have been born on or after April 6, 1953.

Under the previous system, there were two parts to the state pension: the basic state pension as well as the additional state pension, which provides extra money on top of the basic state pension.

But while the new state pension is set at a single amount, people could still end up getting more or less than this when they retire.

To get any of the new state pension, people will generally need to have built up 10 years of National Insurance (NI) contributions. This could come from money they have paid in, or that has come from NI credits, perhaps because they have been caring for a family.

To get the full rate, people will need 35 years of NI contributions.

People could still end up getting more as they may have already built up an entitlement to more than the full rate under the old pension arrangements.

There will be "winners" and "losers" as the new state pension era dawns.

Maike Currie, investment director for personal investing at Fidelity International, says: "The self-employed are the big winners - they could see their pensions rise from around £6,000 a year to £8,000 a year.

"While this might not sound much, to secure the equivalent income of £2,000 a year, rising with inflation would cost you around £65,000 if you're buying a guaranteed annuity at age 65."

Currie says that while women have also been seen as the winners, the rising state pension age for women also means many will be "losers" of the new system.

The benefits of the new state pension will also diminish for younger workers.

Currie says: "The difference is due to the additional savings built up by older workers under the old system called the state second pension. Younger workers will not qualify for this despite paying NI contributions."

• So if you don't think you will be entitled to much state pension, how can you boost it?

There are several potential ways to do this. You could keep working and paying NI contributions until you reach state pension age. You could also see if you can apply for NI credits to fill gaps in your records. Other potential options could be to pay voluntary NI contributions or to defer your state pension when you reach state pension age, to build up extra pension money when you do claim it.

Find more information about deferring the new state pension at www.gov.uk/deferring-state-pension.

If you do have some gaps in your NI record, you might not need to do anything - as it is possible to have some gaps and still get the full new state pension.

For more information about the new state pension, visit www.gov.uk/yourstatepension.

• The state pension is just one part of the retirement savings revolution taking place in recent years. Other changes include:

• Automatic enrolment into workplace pensions. More than six million people have been automatically enrolled. The scheme, launched in 2012, has been successful at getting people into the savings habit, with nine in 10 people staying in their pension so far.

• New pension freedoms for people aged 55 and over. People no longer have to buy a retirement annuity with their pot and instead have more options to take their cash how they wish, subject to tax.

• Further plans to shake up pensions are in the pipeline. From April 2017, people who already have an annuity - which gives pensioners a guaranteed income - can sell it on for a lump sum.

HOW... CAN YOU ADD VALUE TO YOUR HOME ON A SMALL BUDGET?

National Home Improvement Month encourages home owners to see what they can do to spruce up their property in April.

Martyn Baum, president of National Association of Estate Agents, says: "In the absence of any pressing structural repairs, there's a huge variety of more manageable home improvements that home owners can carry out to increase the value of their home."

Here are some suggestions from the NAEA:

• Fitting your home with energy efficient appliances can add value to your home by promising to cut the costs of bills.

• Fixtures and fittings that look tired and in need of replacing can be brought to life again with a deep clean.

• Small kitchen improvements can make a big difference. Fully refurbishing your kitchen is pricey and can take time. Instead, consider selecting noticeable places to improve your kitchen - perhaps a new floor, cooker or cupboard doors, and replace these, rather than the full unit.

• Painting the walls in your home gives a fresh and clean feeling and will reduce the appearance of wear and tear. A tired home gives the impression that a new buyer is likely to need to spend their own money bringing it up to scratch - and they may factor this into the price they are willing to pay for a home.

YOUNGER GENERATION IS 'MORE THRIFTY'

Young "Millennial" adults are saving larger chunks of their cash than the generation above them, a survey has found.

Those in the 18 to 35 Millennial age group are also more likely to have thrifty habits when buying everyday goods such as a coffee or a pint of beer than the Generation X age group of 36 to 54-year-olds, the research from peer-to-peer lender Zopa suggests.

But the survey of more than 2,000 people also found that with financial hurdles such as student loans, costly renting and the struggle to get on the housing ladder, many Millennials also see debt as a normal part of their life.

MANY HOME BUYERS 'MAKE UP THEIR MINDS WITHIN TWO MINUTES'

Britons spend around the same length of time deciding whether to buy a pair of shoes as whether to put an offer in on a house, a survey reveals.

It takes 26 hours on average for people to decide to make an offer on a house purchase, and 25 hours typically for them to decide whether to buy a pair of shoes, HSBC found.

The research, among 2,000 home owners and current house hunters, found that with the supply of homes generally tight compared with the number of potential buyers, one in nine (11%) people had decided to put in an offer within two minutes of viewing a property.

Make finances a priority

By Vicky Shaw, Press Association

Planning a financial future is important - but it seems many of us would rather perform vital tasks like rifling through our music collections than getting down to money matters.

Over the course of a year, UK adults spend just under seven hours sorting out their music libraries - the equivalent of a working day for many people.

But only four and-a-half hours is spent a year reviewing pensions typically, according to a survey of more than 2,000 people.

More than half (58%) of people surveyed for savings specialists Standard Life Savings said they don't review their pensions at all. Among those who do check their private pensions, they do so once every nine months on average.

It's not just pension planning we're putting off. The research found that 40% of people put off organising their day-to-day budget, only 57% know exactly how much money is in their current account and only a quarter (26%) regularly put time aside to review their finances.

Many people also combine their financial catch-ups with other activities - with some having the TV buzzing in the background while they try to pin down their outgoing and incoming cash.

Some 13% of adults admit to sorting out money matters while multi-tasking and watching TV, and 10% don't review their finances at all.

• Head in the sand

you relax, knowing things are under control for the future.

"More people than ever have access to a pension through their workplace, and technology is making it easy for people to regularly review their savings online, so there's no better time than now to get organised."

• Get organised

If you're finding it hard to get into the savings mind-set, here are some tips from Standard Life Savings:

• Track your spending habits and get to know exactly where every single penny is going. You may find doing this online makes it easier. It's only by reviewing where your money is being spent that you can make decisions about whether you wish to continue spending at the same rate on the same outgoings.

• Having tracked your spending, set yourself a realistic budget so you have precise control over what you have to pay and how much you can save and spend.

• Beware of impulse spending. Start using the "need or want" strategy. Ask yourself: "Do I really need this, or do I just want it?" If you're not sure, make yourself walk away and come back in a few hours.

The: "How many hours would I have to work to afford this?" test can quickly help you decide if you really do need something or not.

• Get organised with bill payments. Rather than

So why do we put off vital reviews of our day-to-day budget?

One in three (32%) people simply find it a boring chore. Managing to squeeze the time in to do this is also an issue, with nearly one in five (19%) saying time is a problem.

Meanwhile, 11% admit to lacking confidence when dealing with financial matters and 8% find it difficult.

One in (10%) would prefer not to know the true state of our finances.

Jamie Jenkins, a pension expert at Standard Life Savings, says: "It's easy to put off things you don't enjoy, but keeping on top of both day-to-day budgeting and longer term savings will help missing a deadline and being hit with charges, set up monthly direct debits for utilities. It can also be useful to pay as many other bills as possible on a monthly basis - but check first that this won't incur higher interest payments. With fewer bills to actively manage each month, it all becomes easier.

• Plan for the long term. Something like retirement can seem far away, making planning for it a bit overwhelming. But it may not be as hard as you might think. You can do lots of your planning online these days. Your pension provider may even have an app to help you keep up-to-date. There are calculators and guides available online to make the process easier.

The small hall with the BIG reputation

David Hall

FOLK • ROOTS
ACOUSTIC • JAZZ
BLUES • DANCE
THEATRE • FILM

WE WELCOMED the Emily Portman Trio to perform on their very first visit to The David Hall on Friday, May 6th. Emily won the 2013 BBC Radio 2 Folk Award for Best Original Song and this year was nominated for Folk Singer of the Year. This trio sings out over an atmospheric, layered soundscape of harp, strings, bells, guitars and percussion. This was a top-quality gig of Traditional music performed by three wonderfully talented ladies and clearly showed that the future of Folk is secure for a very long future. Loved by all!

Saturday 14th saw the return of the long-established and immensely successful seven-piece band, Blowzabella. For over 30 years this band has been popularizing the music of English Traditional dances and Eastern couple dances in their own inimitable driving, drone-based style. The afternoon dance workshop was well attended and the evening performance was a near sell-out. Whether they danced or merely listened, everyone fully enjoyed this unique gig and we are planning for it to happen again in 2018.

At the time of going to press, all of us at The David Hall are excited about a special week of attractions to celebrate The Hall's 30th Anniversary.

On Sunday, May 29th we were thrilled to welcome - for a first-ever visit and a 'Chance to Dance' event - one of Folk music's biggest stars: The Oysterband. This was a massive coup for us and was well illustrated by the fact that the gig sold out four months ago! Sorry if you missed out but I will do all I can to get them back.

On Tuesday, May 31st at 7.30pm, and Wednesday, June 1st at 2pm and 7.30pm, Bristol Old Vic Theatre School is presenting A Midsummer Night's Dream. Shakespeare put some of his most dazzling dramatic poetry at the service of this teasing, glittering, hilarious and amazing inventive play, whose seriousness is only fleetingly glimpsed beneath its dreamlike surface.

On Thursday, June 2nd we shall continue our celebrations with Performance Night. All types of performance are welcome - The David Hall has had music, comedy, poetry, dance. All performers have the opportunity to deliver for 10-15 minutes with full PA and lighting system. If you wish to perform, please email folk@chriswatts.org to secure a slot.

Finally, on Friday, June 3rd we will enjoy the first-ever visit by the fabulous Welsh Folk band, 9Bach. Surprisingly, as I am writing this, there are still a few tickets available for what we know will be a memorable night. 9Bach are totally unique and their excellent second album, Tincian, deservedly won the Best Album award at the 2015 BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards. This great band will be supported by the duo, Twelfth Day, who are making big waves - including a performance at the recent Bath Music Festival. A truly memorable way to complete our 30th Anniversary celebration week!

On Saturday, June 11th, The David Hall will welcome back one of its regular performers with a visit by Crewkerne-based Reg Meuross. Reg is one of the country's most respected singer/songwriters and will perform with Jess Vincent. They met in 2012 and Reg was instantly impressed by her highly distinctive voice and narrative song-writing. This will be a charming and intimate performance of Folk and Country-tinged original and traditional duets.

On Friday, June 17th we are thrilled to be welcoming Lil' Jimmy Reed, who is one of the last surviving performers of classic Louisiana down-home Blues. Lil' Jimmy's stinging guitar work, gritty vocals and haunting harmonica have been taking Europe by storm. He will be accompanied on piano by Bob Hall, widely regarded as the UK's finest Blues and Boogie player, and Hilary Blythe on Rock-Steady base. This is a 'one off' opportunity to see this fantastic artiste in our special space. Blues get no better!

Then we come to Saturday, June 18th, which is the day of the 5th Petherton Folk Fest.

This will once again be a one-day festival of live music and dance. As well as a full programme in The Market Square - where there will also be stalls, food and a craft market - we shall have music throughout the day in the Church, The David Hall, The Infants' School Yard and The Brewers Arms. Several Morris 'sides' will start the day at 10am with the traditional Ceremony of the Glove and the programme will conclude in The Brewers Arms at 9pm with a performance by local band, Bad Dog, No Biscuit. Please support this event which is 'run by local people for the benefit of local people'. And here's hoping for great weather!

I shall look forward to writing my next article when I will not only reflect on the Folk Fest but also give you an insight into the delights in store in The David Hall's new programme, running from July to December.

*All the best, Pete Wheeler
Petherton Arts Trust*

Further events at The David Hall in June

Sunday, June 5th, will be Open Gardens Day in the village of Over Stratton, near South Petherton, and is a fundraising event for The David Hall. Enjoy afternoon tea with home-made cakes as well as Traditional music and plant sales. Entry is by programme, available at the David Hall and N&D News, South Petherton, or on the day at all participating gardens. Entrance is £5 per adult and free for accompanied children and wheelchair users.

Petherton Picture Show will present two films in June - on Friday 10th, Under Milk Wood (15), starring Rhys Ifans, Charlotte Church and Julian Lewis Jones and on Friday 24th, Bridge of Spies (12), with Tom Hanks, Mark Rylance and Alan Alda, both starting at 8pm.

The David Hall's popular monthly Coffee Morning will be on Wednesday, June 29th, 10am - 12pm, with real coffee and home-made cakes, book and bric-a-brac stalls and live music.

For further details about any of the above please check the website www.thedavidhall.org.uk or call 01460 240 340.

Cool midsummer jazz

Darius Brubeck

JAZZ HERITAGE doesn't come much cooler than this. Darius Brubeck is the son of Dave Brubeck, whose polyrhythmic hits in the 50s and 60s included the inimitable Take Five, Blue Rondo à la Turk and Unsquare Dance. Darius follows in the family tradition and on Friday, June 17th he and his band, the Darius Brubeck Quartet, will be bringing their unique 'three-dimensional' programme of original compositions, Dave Brubeck hits and South African jazz to Ilminster Arts Centre.

Playing to sold-out houses at regional festivals and clubs in Europe and the UK, the Darius Brubeck Quartet's acoustic brand of jazz is melodic, spontaneous, rhythmic and audience-friendly. The band line up comprises Darius Brubeck leading on piano, with Matt Ridley on bass, Wesley Gibbens on drums and Dave O'Higgins on sax; together they will serve up an irresistible musical feast.

Enthusiastic reactions to the Quartet include Tim Dickson, of Jazzwise magazine who says, 'the combination of Brubeck & O'Higgins is certainly among the best piano/sax partnerships in the UK.' It is a combination that we certainly can't wait to hear - advance booking for this concert is highly recommended!

Darius Brubeck and his quartet play at Ilminster Arts Centre at the Meeting House on Friday, June 17th at 8pm. Tickets are £16, and a pre-show supper is available for £13 at 7pm but must be pre-booked. To book, or for more details, call 01460 54973 or visit www.themeetinghouse.org.uk

Their unique version of the classic tale is guaranteed to be an unforgettable performance which adults will enjoy just as much as the children. Trekking with Bearhouse Alpacas

AFTER a very successful few days away at Devon County Show, it's back to trekking for Bearhouse Alpacas based in the beautiful Roncombe Valley near Sidbury, East Devon. If you are looking for something unusual to do with the kids this half term, why not book an alpaca trek at Bearhouse Farm and enjoy a walk in our beautiful countryside in the company of these delightful, inquisitive camelids?

Treks of approximately two hours, tailored to suit individual requirements, are run from the farm in the Roncombe Valley and follow the bridleways around the farm, situated in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

Treks are weather permitting and are suitable for all ages. Alpaca Trekking vouchers as birthday gifts are very popular, and birthday parties have become a regular event for adults and children, but small group bookings with a minimum of two people are just as much fun. We charge £20 per adult and £10 for children.

Alpacas produce one of the most desirable natural fibres in the world as their fleeces are exceptionally fine, light, soft and extremely warm. Bearhouse Farm sell a range of luxurious alpaca socks at affordable prices and have their alpaca fibre spun into wool in several colours as well as producing alpaca felt which is made into shoe/boot insoles.

5 TIPS ABOUT SUBSIDENCE

1. SUBSIDENCE is the shrinking and movement

By Julia Gray, Press Association of the earth your home is built on, which results in the foundations moving and cracks appearing in the building. There are several causes of subsidence, but one of the most common is trees. Tree roots can cause movement by growing under the foundations. Even if they're not that invasive, the roots extract moisture from the soil, causing the ground to contract. Pruning or removing the tree is often the solution, but it can sometimes make the problem worse.

2. Clay soil is another common cause of subsidence. It usually holds a lot of water, but if the water table drops during dry weather, the clay will start to shrink. Hidden mine shafts or bell mines, defective drains, culverts and pipework, and sandy or gravelly soil can also cause subsidence. Leaking water can wash away unstable soil from around a building's foundations, for example.

3. If you see cracks in plaster or brickwork, they're not necessarily a sign of subsidence, as cracks can be caused by all sorts of things and are often nothing to worry about. However, new or expanding cracks wider than 3mm may be caused by subsidence, especially during a dry spell. Cracks that are wider at the top than the bottom, and that run diagonally, can be a sign of subsidence, too, as can a crack that's on both the inside and outside of a wall.

4. If you think your home is suffering from subsidence, tell your buildings insurer, as they should get an expert to check it out. It's often a case of monitoring the situation, which can be a lengthy process lasting months or even years - drain and geological surveys may be necessary. If you don't have insurance, or don't want to involve your insurer straightaway, get a chartered surveyor to assess the problem. In the worst cases, a structural engineer will also be needed.

5. Relatively easy solutions can often be found for subsidence, such as fixing a defective drain or water pipe. In other cases, metal piles can be used to shore up the foundations, but only if the foundations are strong enough. Jet grouting can sometimes be the answer, which involves filling underground gaps and making unstable soil, such as gravelly soil, solid. In a small number of cases, underpinning is required. This is where pits are dug under the foundations and filled with concrete - it's an expensive process, but your home should be a lot sturdier afterwards.

Volkswagen Amarok: On the move in a premium pick-up

VOLKSWAGEN Commercial Vehicles has revealed the first images of its new Amarok on the move, as well as the interior which offers customers a number of new features. These include an attractive cockpit, with a colour multi-function display for the Aventura launch model and state-of-the-art radio/navigation systems. For the driver and front-seat passenger, the Amarok also provides 14-way adjustable ergoComfort seats, which have already won awards for their back-friendliness.

Superior and robust: at home both on and off the road, the Amarok, with its new 3.0-litre V6 TDI engine achieves 550 Newton metres of torque and 165 kW / 224 PS at this highest power output level. It can reach a top speed of 193 kilometres per hour (120 mph) and accelerate from 0 to 100 km/h (62 mph) in 7.9 seconds.

The pick-up is an attractive alternative thanks to its high seat position, good all-round visibility and high-quality interior, making for a comfortable ride both on- and off-road. And, despite its impressive size, getting into the Amarok is easy, with doors that swing open wide and – depending on the design variant – grab handles on the A and B-pillars to help you climb into the cab.

One of the highlights of the new Amarok's interior are the new electrically adjustable ergoComfort seats for the driver and front-seat passenger, which provide plenty of head and legroom. This is, above all, thanks to the height-adjustable front seats, which can also be moved a long way back. They feature sporty contoured side bolsters that have been optimised to provide maximum comfort and top ergonomic characteristics. The optional electric 14-way driver and front passenger seats can be individually adjusted to suit personal body size. The seat height and longitudinal position can be adjusted at the push of a button, the degree and width of lumbar support can be changed and the backrest and seat cushion angle set. The seat depth can also be adjusted manually. The ergoComfort seats for the driver and front-seat passenger in the Amarok have been awarded the 'AGR' seal of approval by the Healthy Back Campaign (Aktion Gesunder Rücken e.V.). With nappa leather seat covers, contrasting Ceramique stitching and additional seat heating, the Amarok caters for discerning customers.

The redesigned instrument panel also immediately catches the eye: striking features of the design of the new instrument panel architecture include the emphasis on horizontal lines, the clear division of the surfaces and the precision of the folds and edges. Doing away with round contours and concentrating on horizontal and vertical lines makes the interior appear more striking and pronounced. Numerous storage compartments make life easier for the passengers.

The multifunction steering wheel also makes it easier for the driver to operate the radio, telephone or multifunction display. The Aventura launch model comes with a colour 3D display between the classic round instruments. The driver can use the new, optional paddle switches on the steering wheel (standard in the Aventura) to control the 8-speed automatic transmission, while the frameless rear-view mirror, in combination with the optional Light and Sight package, heightens the up-market look and sporting character of the new Amarok's interior.

At the very top of the centre console, and thus directly in the driver's field of vision, is the infotainment system, allowing well thought-out, ergonomic operation. Equipped with features such as App Connect, Guide & Inform or Car-Net, it is possible, for example, to integrate smartphone apps via a USB interface in order to be able to access them via the infotainment system's touchscreen. Guide & Inform extends the navigation system by adding online-based, up-to-the-minute information services such as online traffic information. The 'Discover Media' navigation system also comes with DAB+ digital radio as standard.

Both the 'Composition Media' and 'Discover Media' infotainment systems come with digital voice enhancement. This electric voice amplification makes communicating during the journey easier. The hands-free microphone amplifies the voice signals so that the driver no longer, for instance, has to turn to face the back-seat passengers or raise their voice. Passengers on the back seat hear the person's voice amplified by the rear loudspeakers.

The 'Park Pilot' parking assistance system, assisted by the 'Rear View' reversing camera, also makes life easier. Stainless steel pedals (exclusive to the Aventura) and black trim, divided from door to door by a bar in contrasting colour, round off the appearance of the Amarok's interior. Air-conditioning system, Bluetooth connection and up to four 12-volt power supply sockets are also included.

Prices for the new Amarok in Germany start at €25,720 net for the rear-wheel drive Trendline version with double cab, the V6 TDI and 120 kW (EU6, available from the second quarter of 2017), making them just €940 more expensive than the previous entry-level model with a with double cab and 103 kW TDI four-cylinder engine. The top-of-the-range Amarok Aventura with the V6 TDI and 165 kW engine, 4Motion all-wheel drive and 8-speed automatic transmission comes to €46,525 net and will be launched at the end of September 2016.

New Amarok sales in the UK will begin before the end of the year. There are currently no plans to sell the launch Aventura model in the UK. Full pricing and specification details will be released closer to launch.

SEAT UK confirms pricing and specification for Ateca 'First Edition'

FOLLOWING the huge success of its latest UK marketing initiative to tap into the British psyche and discover the perfect recipe for a compact SUV, SEAT is now able to confirm pricing and specification for its new Ateca First Edition.

Created purely as a one-off launch trim level, exclusivity for the extremely well-specified and striking First Edition is assured, with just 200 examples destined for UK retail buyers.

SEAT has taken its time with its first-ever SUV, to create what it believes is the best car of its ilk to live with every day. So, in an effort to match Ateca to the needs of British buyers as closely as possible, it ran an online 'lifestyle configurator' on its website, to seek crowd-sourced information upon which to base an ideal specification.

Smashing its internal forecasts and no doubt testament to the growing buzz surrounding Ateca, over the course of six weeks close to 13,000 Brits took part in the competition, which included a top prize of an all-expenses paid family trip to Barcelona, SEAT's home city.

Responding to a series of seven questions about their lifestyles and character, with 192 possible outcomes, the online system then generated an Ateca version to suit their specific needs. The most popular proved to be 'Horizon Chaser'. Translating it into a UK production car has led to the following items of standard equipment being included: 18-inch bi-colour alloy wheels, satellite-navigation system with an eight-inch touchscreen, Keyless entry (KESSY), electric tailgate with virtual pedal, rear parking sensors with rear view camera, dark-tinted rear windows, black roof rails and window surrounds.

Slotting into the Ateca range above SE and below the flagship XCELLENCE, the high-spec new First Edition offers more than £3,500 of additional equipment over the former, saving customers over £1,100.

The First Edition is available in two engines, 1.0 TSI 115PS and 1.6 TDI 115 PS, and is competitively priced at £21,995 and £24,305 respectively. It comes in a choice of three colours, Nevada White, Rodium Grey and Samoa Orange.

Priced from £17,990, the eagerly-awaited Ateca range will be

Cerys Matthews records music video inside quiet electric cars

CERYs Matthews' new song Float On Down To Monte Carlo has been recorded entirely within a collection of electric cars, in an experiment designed to highlight the quiet, relaxing ride of pure electric and plug-in hybrid vehicles.

In a collaboration with the Government and automotive industry-backed Go Ultra Low campaign, the Welsh icon and her band recorded the Bossa Nova-inspired tune while on the move in four cars that were turned into mini recording studios.

This feat is uniquely achievable in pure electric vehicles – or plug-in hybrid vehicles in electric mode – because there is no engine noise, resulting in acoustics that are more conducive to recording sound.

Footage of the musicians inside the BMW 225xe, Kia Soul EV, Mitsubishi Outlander

PEHEV and Nissan e-NV200 Combi, was captured from sessions at Millbrook Proving Ground, Bedfordshire, and turned into a music video to accompany the song.

The video sees Cerys and her band (Mason Neely, Byron Waller and Neil Charles) undertake a 'journey' from noisy towns and cities to a tranquil countryside setting. The video emphasises the refined driving experience that is contributing to the rising popularity of electric vehicles with British motorists.

Cerys Matthews said: "I want my family to live a greener life, and electric cars give us the opportunity to do that. What was surprising when we drove one was that it's actually a much more enjoyable ride for the driver and passengers, no more having to shout (or sing!) above the engine noise – it's a more relaxing experience.

"The inspiration for the song Float On Down To Monte Carlo is the idea of being taken away from noisy and complicated everyday life to a place where you can hear yourself think and dream. I'm so keen to share the experience that I've hired six electric cars to ferry people to and from my 'Good Life Festival' in September."

Poppy Welch, Head of Go Ultra Low, added: "A quiet, peaceful ride is one of the best things about driving an electric car. Combined with compelling financial savings and zero tailpipe emissions, it's no wonder British motorists are turning to electric cars in record numbers."

CITROËN'S New C4 Cactus Rip Curl Special Edition will go on sale in the UK on 1 June 2016, priced from just £18,480 MRRP OTR. The new Special Edition introduces Grip Control to the C4 Cactus range for the very first time and features Rip Curl inspired styling elements to emphasise the adventurous character of the multi-award-winning model.

Citroën and the world famous surf brand, Rip Curl, have joined forces to create the C4 Cactus Rip Curl Special Edition, which will be available in the UK from 1 June 2016.

Featuring unique interior and exterior styling elements to complement the adventurous nature of the model, the new C4 Cactus Special Edition boasts Rip Curl graphics on the wings and rear quarter-lights; white roof rails and door mirrors; orange seatbelts; orange detailing on the audio speakers; and orange-trimmed carpet mats.

Embodying both brands' val-

The Special Edition also features 17-inch diamond cut 'Cross' alloy wheels with Goodyear 4 seasons Mud+Snow tyres.

The C4 Cactus Rip Curl Special Edition will offer customers a choice of two engines, the award-winning PureTech 110 S&S and the Blue HDi 100.

Revealed for the first time at the 2016 Geneva Motor Show, this new Special Edition features a panoramic glass roof, as standard, and will be available with five striking body colours – Obsidian Black (metallic), Arctic Steel (metallic), Pearl White (pearlescent), Sport Red and Tapenade Grey. All versions come complete with Citroën's innovative Airbump® technology, which is designed to avoid scrapes and scratches to the bodywork.

Standard equipment also includes aluminium-effect front and rear bumper protectors; rear parking sensors; a colour reversing camera; automatic air conditioning; automatic headlights and wipers; satellite navigation; a 6-speaker MP3 audio system; cruise control/speed limiter; and tinted rear windows.

Seaton edge home in local derby thriller

Honiton's fine start checked by Chardstock – Ottery St Mary fall agonizingly short at Bideford

MATCH REPORTS

HONITON 1st XI VS CHARDSTOCK 1st XI
HAVING got off to good start to the season Oil Cave's Honiton side hosted Chardstock looking to continue in the same vein.

But a poor batting display had them unstuck on this occasion.

The home side got off to a good start with Cave hitting 45, but his dismissal triggered a collapse.

With the score on 70 for 7 it was only Rob Ingram (31) who showed some fight as the team finished 146 all out with R Pyman 4 for 32 and Gary Larcombe 3 for 16 doing the damage.

The visitors were in trouble early on with at 19 for 3 thanks to early wickets from Phil Tansley (2 for 15).

But some good batting from J Larcombe (64) and Rob Hutchings (48*) and some below par fielding saw Chardstock finish the job with plenty to spare.

HONITON 2ND XI VS EXMOUTH 3RD XI

WITH half of the regular side missing for various reasons Andrew Lapping's men took to the field having lost the toss.

Wickets were hard to come by so it was all about keeping things tight.

Which they did well throughout. Exmouth youngsters S Corney (53) and J Horler batted well but Honiton's fielders stopped them from scoring quickly and with only eight overs left the home side pushed for quick runs but in doing so lost quick wickets.

Andy Brinsford took six wickets in his last four overs to finish with 6 for 27 as Exmouth were kept to 184 for 9.

In reply, Honiton got off to a quick start with Captain Andrew Lapping hitting 29. When he was out the scoring slowed but wickets were kept in hand.

Nathan Groves got himself going for the season with 61, Pete Beighton (44*) batted throughout and, along with the middle order, saw Honiton to victory with three balls to spare.

Skipper Lapping said: "We showed great fight today. The guys that came in all did the job required of them. Each win helps us in our aim of consolidating our place in this division"

Quintet in regional champs

FIVE 15 years and over Chard & District Club swimmers competed at the recent ASA South West Regional Youth Championships held at the Plymouth Life Centre.

To take part in these Championships swimmers have to achieve the required qualifying times in each event, and this enables them to compete against the top swimmers in the South West of England including Plymouth's Olympic swimmers Ruta Meilutite and Ben Proud.

Unfortunately the number of swimmers able to compete from the club was less than those who qualified due to impending exams.

Hannah Pullinger 20, qualified for four events and swam in the 50 and 100m free, and 50m breast events, achieving some good times and a new personal best in the 50m freestyle. Henry Taswell (15) had a demanding schedule of ten events including the gruelling 1500m free on the final day and again achieved some good times. Paul Harrison 18 (200m Ind med), Leo Kindred 15 (100m Breast) and Simon Davis 14 (50m Breast) also competed over the weekend, posting some respectable long course times.

A further six 11-14 year younger Age Group swimmers achieved the qualifying times to compete at their equivalent Regional Championships at Millfield and Bristol. Qualification and success in the breaststroke events was strong, with five of the swimmers all achieving at least two qualifying times in these events.

Briana Barrand (12) competed in the 50,100 and 200m breast, and 50m freestyle and made the final in 100m breast, achieving 6th place. Millie Downes, also 12, competed in the 50, 100 and 200m breaststroke and made finals in two events placing 5th in the 50m and 8th in the 200m.

Grace Lambert 11, competing in her first Regional Championships did particularly well as she had to achieve the qualifying times for 11-12 year olds; she competed in the 50 and 200m breaststroke events.

Xanthe Dyer (14) also swam two breaststroke events – 50 and 100m, Joss Copeman 14, qualified and swam in four events - 50 and 100m breast and 50 and 100m bfly, and 12-year-old Jimmy Brett swam in the 50m bfly.

Axminster Hospital Cup Final

CHARD flew out of the blocks in Friday's cup final at Tiger Way and took the lead in fifth minute when Adam Tovey's cross-shot found Braeden Symes who tapped in from two yards out.

The Robins had the chance to increase the lead in 20th minute when a corner by Tovey was met by Leigh Bailey but his powerful header went straight into the arms of keeper Scott Wells-Burr.

It was all Chard at this stage, but Axminster improved towards the end of the half.

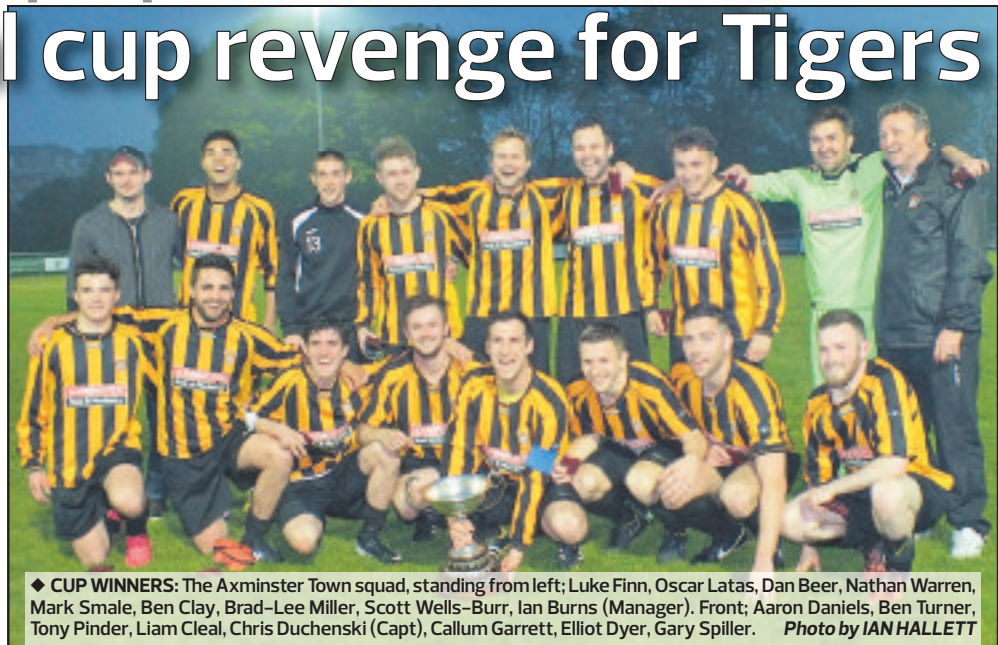

Chard keeper Jason Hutchings had to get down quick to make a fine save from Tony Pinder and then, with five minutes of the half remaining, Axminster had a shot ricochet off the crossbar.

The home side continued to threaten after the interval and should have equalised on the hour when Liam Cleal's cross found Pinder who somehow hit his effort over the bar from inches out.

But the Tigers only had to wait four minutes before getting level when Chris Duchenski hammered the ball home from the penalty spot after a hotly disputed handball decision.

Three minutes later Ax went in front as Gary Spiller laid the ball into the path of Ben Turner who made no mistake from eight yards.

The hosts advantage was increased, and victory assured, in the 76th minute when Cleal fired home a third goal despite the best efforts of Hutchings at full stretch and

It's advantage Honiton in Parker Cup tie

HONITON with John Pawley

IN THE 1970s Stan Parker, being a member of both clubs, set up a cup competition between Exeter GC and Honiton GC on a home and away aggregate basis.

The 2016 round started last week with the away leg. After a few years of drawn matches the 12-man Honiton team succeeded in regaining the trophy.

Anticipating the usual keen opposition, Captain Alan Pollock took his team to the re-designed Exeter course, and came back with a 4-2 victory.

Exeter are due to visit for the return fixture in July – and a tough match is assured.

The next day many of the team took part in the home friendly Seniors match against Teignmouth.

The team continued the winning streak with a 5-1 victory. Special mention should be made to Allan Pollock and Ron Graham who played in both matches, and won on both occasions.

In the afternoon, 18 drawn pairs played a mixed Greensomes competition. The winners of the Chivers Goblets with 39pts were Jan Portlock & Andy Sharland. Elizabeth Wood & Brian Morrison secured second place with 36 and Lesley Farley & Rob Sexton were third on 35 They were followed by Catherine Doherty & Cyril Dann with 34.

The qualifier for the Express & Echo

◆ CHEERS: Chivers Goblets winners: Jan Portlock & Andy Sharland

Shield was the competition on offer for the Ladies last Wednesday.

This is a foursomes Stableford competition with both the winners and runners up going forward to represent the club at the finals in September/October.

The winners were Catherine Doherty &

Linda Blundell with 32pts with Elizabeth Ward & Sue Ritchie came a close second with 31.

A standard foursomes Stableford, run alongside the main competition, produced the same result – so both pairs won again!

Alongside this was the final round of the Australian Spoons competition. The highest points score of all the rounds played was Linda Blundell & Jan Portlock's 34, so they will play in the regional finals at Thornbury in Gloucestershire in July. The winner of the 10 hole Stableford was June Hodge with 16 points.

The good weather continued on Friday for the 56 Seniors taking part in the Texas Scramble format.

The drawn teams of three get to choose the next shot from where the balls lie, but the drive of each player has to be taken on at least five occasions – so scores should be competitive and low.

Dave Maggs, Tom Stanton & Tom Tunnicliffe emerged triumphant with a net score of 64.5. Jim Wallis, Phil Faulkner & Ron Rogers were second with 65.5 with Andy Sharland, Peter Keith & Rob Sexton taking third place with 65.8. Mike Kent, Mike Watts & Bill Phillips completed the list of winners with 66.3.

Tony Proudfoot and Oliver Wilson scored the only 2s of the round – both on the second hole – and each received 18 balls.

As part of Festival Week there was a Ladies 3BBB Stableford competition following the seniors competition, and the winning team came from Honiton. Jane Watts, Jenny Raison & Janet Hughes came out on top with a score of 77pts. They were followed by a team from Kingsdown GC, Corsham with 75 and next came Stover GC with 74.

A mixed Bowmaker Stableford competition was played the day before. This time Jane Watts, along with husband Mike, Alan Devenny & Jackie Seager ensured a very good week by coming second with 82.

The team were just pipped to the top spot by a mixed team from Mendip and Clevedon. Third were the team from East Devon GC.

Last a weekend brought a host of team golf for the Honiton GC men.

Starting on Saturday with the B team, led by Dave Chaffey, had a convincing home win against Axe Cliff. This was followed by the Dartmoor League team who continued their unbeaten run with a narrow 3-2 home victory against Bigbury. This week the team was captained by Julian Netherway.

The regular Dartmoor Team skipper Rob Willey was utilizing his golfing prowess in the County Palatinate knock-out as part of the club team playing Borringdon Park GC at Stover. Unfortunately the only winners from Honiton were James Spiller & Jake Phillips who finished 2up.

The pairings of Mark Tierney & Paul Dimond and James Drew & Ben Phillips both took their matches to the final hole, but the matches for Rob Willey & Stewart Slater and also Peter Clarke & Jeff Peace were not quite so close.

CRICKET ST THOMAS with Bert Robinson
MONDAY'S May stableford competition was attended by 57 members of the Senior Section.

Results: Division One; 1st Mike Hone (37), 2nd Martin Bargery (35), 3rd Frank Martin (35). Division Two; 1st Robin Flower (38), 2nd Andy Beale (35), 3rd Richard Hall (33).

On Tuesday the match team entertained the Seniors from WHEATHILL.

Results: Nick Hill & John McOmish won by one hole, Roger Stone & Mike Dawson won by two holes, Lyndsey Gage & Bim Morfit halved, Norman Markby & Nobby Hodder lost 6&4, John Walgrave & Bryan Frost won 2&1, Mike King & Barry Singleton lost by one hole.

Meanwhile, 14 pairs of Seniors entered the 4Ball Batter Ball competition on Wednesday.

Forty three Seniors travelled to the ENMORE club on Friday to participate in the third round of the Challenge Cup.

The forecast rain held off and the golfers enjoyed a fine day on a Challenging course which restricted the scoring and the best score was three over par.

A fine effort by Robin Flower saw him score 32 points which was sufficient to see him land third place.

Both Barry Singleton and Maurice Arnold returned scores of 33 with the former taking first place by virtue of a better back nine.

AXE CLIFF with Peter Motson

THE Men's section played their Century Niblick competition in a medal format. Alan Kenworthy was first with a net 71 score, 2nd was Steve Bond (net 72) and 3rd was Richard Gibbons (also net 72). There were four 2s; Alan Kenworthy (2), Andrew Hellier and Anthony Hellier.

Meanwhile, Andrew Hellier won with a +4 in The Adams Cup Bogey format, played on Sunday, May 22nd. In 2nd was Tom Spencer with +2 and 3rd was John Collins with +1. Peter Petherbridge, Alan Cooper, Mike Chadwick, Stuart Mackie and Nigel Pritchard all carded 2s.

The Ladies section had another successful Sheelah Creasy match winning away at Exminster.

The Club competition was a four ball better ball Ping National Competition qualifier, but, as thousands enter and only 100 pairs qualify, it would be exceptional if Axe Cliff were to progress to the play-offs.

Helen Kenworthy & Margaret Kenchington were the winners with 37 points, 2nd were Jill Wellington & Pauline Willis on countback with 34 and 3rd were Sandra Walker & Barbara Cummings also with 34.

The Seniors section held their May Medal competition last Friday which, was won with a very commendable net 67 by Phil Christmas (24 hc). In 2nd was A Bishop (26 hc) with a net 71 and 3rd place was Tony Strong (6 hc) with a net 72.

For his Captain's Away Day, Seniors Captain Bob Graham led 22 of his men, plus four guests, to a remote corner of Devon for a day out.

Considering the Stableford points recorded, it is fair to say that the course proved to be too good a test but an enjoyable one nonetheless.

Chris Walker (13 hc) scored 35 points and won the Away Day Trophy which was presented by Captain Bob Graham and the 1st prize of Sunday Lunch at Deer Park Hotel. He scored a two with his last putt of the competition, the second two of his round.

Two other 2s were recorded by Bob Grove and Pete Motson.

Four players scored 33 points with Gilbert Cox squeezing in 2nd place followed by Peter Hornsby 3rd. John Mant was 4th and Neil Moorcraft 5th.

There were prizes for nearest the pin on two holes which, were won by Pail Curtin and Peter Hornsby.

petanque honiton

Upbeat despite defeat

HONITON Petanque Club's match at Ottery St Mary ended in another narrow 3-2 defeat - their third consecutive loss by the same scoreline.

Several Honiton members had played in the Charity Shield at Ottery St Mary the previous week and their continued improvement was noticeable.

In this Devon League match Lesley and Costa Drakatos with Charlie O'Reilly took one of the opening triples against the Otters' Peter Smith, Barrie Hall & Mike Bird by 13-8.

John Thatcher, Dave West & Paul Puddicombe levelled the match in beating Honiton's Maureen and Andy Mill with Chris Bigmore 13-6.

With all to play for in the three doubles games Peter Smith & Barrie Hall made a good start for the home team with a 13-8 win against Maureen & Andy Mills.

But the Otters' John Thatcher & Mike Bird ensured victory when they beat Costa Drakatos & Charlie O'Reilly 13-6.

The Honiton side went down fighting with Lesley Drakatos & Chris Bigmore winning 13-6 against Dave West & Paul Puddicombe.

The match result leaves Ottery St Mary unbeaten in the Devon league after three matches.

"We have to remember this is only our third ever match in the league and the third very close call," said Honiton Captain Chris Bigmore. "We also had two players making their debuts. The fact that we were disappointed not to win says a lot. I was delighted with our overall performance, so we remain upbeat and I don't think that first win is too far off"

Club sessions take place twice a week at Mountbatten Sports & Social Club, Ottery Moor Lane, Honiton. For more information phone 07815 710810.
